I understand that Southwest Florida German Shepherd Rescue cannot guaranty that this pet will be perfectly suited to your family or your home, nor that we know everything about the pet when we deliver him or her to you. It is your job as the owner to provide training, love and attention to the dog and to observe him or her for any unusual behaviors, health issues or situations that would make the pet unsuitable to your home or family. If the animal has health issues you agree to have them treated by your vet or if you cannot treat the animal appropriately, that you return him to us immediately. If you are unwilling to address any medical or behavioral issues through training or veterinary care, then you agree to return the pet to us for re-homing. You agree to hold SW Florida German Shepherd rescue harmless in any and all cases involving the dog adopted to you, regardless of issue. These issues are typically, but not limited to, the following areas; destruction of property, aggression toward people or pets, biting or any medical problems. I further agree that if for any reason I cannot keep the do, that he or she will be returned to SW Florida German Shepherd Rescue.
